ATTACHMENT A Project History

We have worked with the Town of Hamden on the Newhall Neighborhood Project since 2001 when we were brought on board to document the Program Area's development history and subsurface conditions. We worked on both residential and public properties with representatives of the EPA and CTDEEP and helped with the establishment of a CTDEEP Consent Order. We then conducted a detailed investigation of the Town's Consent Order-required properties and developed a Remedial Action Plan (RAP). The CTDEEP-approved RAP was implemented and resulted in the creation of the present-day Rochford Field and Villano Park. Post-remediation, long-term groundwater monitoring was completed in 2023. We are currently working with the Town of Hamden to complete regulatory closure documentation.

During our investigation of the Newhall Neighborhood, Haley & Aldrich performed the first comprehensive geotechnical investigation into foundation settlement issues during late 2001. We performed a neighborhood outreach program that identified 42 residential properties identified as possibly having building settlement problems. Building cracks and settlement were observed in 34 of the 36 residences investigated. We documented our observations, performed air quality testing and tracked crack widths.

Since approximately 2016, Haley & Aldrich has worked with the Hamden Economic Development Corporation (HEDC) on residential development projects within the Newhall Neighborhood. We developed a Generic Soil Management Plan to be used by developers to maintain CTDEEP compliance; provided geotechnical investigation and foundation design on numerous Newhall properties; provided construction monitoring assistance for several projects; and assisted the Town of Hamden with documenting soil remediation costs for reimbursement to CTDEEP.

Our on-going work on the Hamden Highwood Estates Development project for HEDC included, among other work, conducting a geotechnical subsurface investigation program in 2023-2024 on seven Newhall properties and developed foundation design recommendations for eight proposed residential structures. These services also include consulting with the design team and CTDEEP and have resulted in reduced soil disposal costs, and reduced potential of environmental hazard exposures to workers and the Newhall Community.

2024 Hamden Legislative Council allocated $3.5 million in Federal American Plan Rescue Act (ARPA) Funds to complete assessment of impacted property and to complete structural repair work on homes that continue to be impacted by fill conditions in the Newhall neighborhood.

NEWHALL NEIGHBORHOOD SETTLEMENT CHARACTERIZATION, EVALUATION AND DESIGN SCOPE OF WORK

Preliminary Phase: [assumes 100 properties]

1. Accumulate and evaluate readily available soil, rock, and groundwater level data, building foundation and site history information, geotechnical and environmental data at the site from information in our files and provided to us by the Town. Specifically, for each property we will review past geotechnical and environmental investigations and information contained in Town Building Department files.
2. Develop a spreadsheet of Newhall Neighborhood properties with settlement issues identified by the Town that will include owner contact information, and summary of previous investigations and mitigation.
3. Work with the Town to develop property owner contact and site access protocols. Schedule a site reconnaissance of approximately 100 subject properties. We will attempt to schedule several site visits per day to reduce travel costs and coordinate with Town Building Inspector.
4. Implement a site reconnaissance program of each subject property to document the existing condition of the building. Our work will include visual inspection of exterior and interior walls and floors. Observations will be performed from readily accessible locations including the grounds, basement, first and second floors. Site reconnaissance will not occur unless the property owner or designated representative is present during our site visit. Wall/floor/ceiling coverings, furniture and contents will be left as is and no intrusive or exploratory probing will be performed. When applicable, we will photo document building areas showing signs of possible settlement, measure severity of cracks, record relevant information provided by the homeowner, evaluate site access for subsurface investigations, and install manual crack monitoring gages. The gages will measure crack displacement beginning after installation. The gages will be installed with epoxy or screw anchors. No other destructive methods of investigation are planned. We plan to install an average of three crack monitoring gages at each property.
5. Update spreadsheet with site reconnaissance information and categorize the approximately 100 properties into those where subsurface investigations appear warranted and those where only crack gauge monitoring appears appropriate at this time. This determination will be based on the relative amount of settlement observed, historic information, and the wishes of the homeowner.
6. Meet with the Town to discuss our findings, revise spreadsheet as needed, and select properties for crack gauge only investigation and crack gauge plus subsurface investigations.

Geotechnical Engineering Investigation Phase: [assumes 40 crack gauge investigations and 60 crack plus subsurface investigations]

7. Develop property-specific test boring investigation programs and cost estimates, and revise spreadsheet.
8. Review investigation programs with Town and property owners and revise as needed.
9. Develop Access Agreements for property owner's signature, distribute Agreements to owner's and follow-up with phone calls or site visits as needed to answer questions and procure signed documents. Prepare a Health & Safety Plan for our staff members while they are on the various properties.
10. Contract with a private utility location company to assist Haley & Aldrich in clearing underground utilities at each test boring location. We will coordinate individual property access with each homeowner and accompany our subcontractor. We will stake or spray-mark boring locations in the field based on input from our subcontractor. Utilities will be marked out within approximately 5 ft. of boring locations using geophysical methods. We anticipate an average of two hours work for each property.
11. Contract with a qualified driller to perform the subsurface investigations. Our drilling subcontractor will obtain the necessary utility clearance by contacting Call Before You Dig (811). We will coordinate site investigations with each homeowner and accompany our subcontractor.
12. Conduct up to four hollow-stem auger borings to approximately 20 to 30 ft. deep at each property designated for subsurface explorations. We will monitor investigations so that their locations and depths can be varied as necessary to meet subsurface conditions encountered and document subcontractor activities. To the extent practical, investigation derived waste will be used to fill each test boring. Excess soil will be drummed and removed to an off-site temporary storage area (provided by others) for later transport to an appropriate soil reuse location. We will assist HEDC with arranging for soil disposal. We do not plan to install groundwater monitoring wells during this investigation as significant groundwater mapping has been done as part of past environmental investigations of the Newhall Neighborhood. We anticipate one to two rig-days and two 55-gal drums per property (goal is one rig-day per property). [assumes 75 rig-days]
13. Perform geotechnical laboratory tests on soil samples recovered from subsurface explorations as required to aide in soil classification and reuse options. Up to 180 grain size analyses (i.e., three per property) are planned.
14. Schedule and perform quarterly site visits to each of up to 100 buildings to record displacement of the crack monitoring gages and report the data for up to 12 months.

DRAFT

Geotechnical Engineering Analysis and Design Phase: [assumes 40 crack gauge reports and 60 subsurface investigation reports]

15. Perform a limited study to assess if the past decade or more of historical satellite-based radar measurements would provide a sufficient density of settlement measurements on the subject buildings to supplement the manual monitoring. [assumes 100 properties]
16. Perform data review and analysis of each property related to the geotechnical engineering and environmental aspects of foundation repair and develop construction options to mitigate future foundation settlement. Prepare draft design engineering reports for each property, which will contain the following items as applicable to the project and site: [assumes 60 individual reports]
 - Location plan and logs of subsurface explorations.
 - Summary of subsurface geologic conditions as interpreted from the explorations.
 - Results of geotechnical laboratory tests.
 - A summary of design parameters for the structure provided by others for use in our geotechnical analyses, including column and wall loads, column spacing, floor loading and elevations, settlement tolerances and special features.
 - For buildings to be reconstructed, recommended foundation type with foundation design criteria including capacities, depths, and other information required for final design and preparation of contract drawings and specifications.
 - For buildings to be repaired, recommended foundation repair method with design criteria including capacities, depths, and other information required for final design and preparation of contract drawings and specifications.
 - Estimates of settlement for structural elements.
 - Recommended design approach for lowest floor slab, and requirements for foundation and floor drainage.
 - Comments on geotechnical aspects of construction, such as excavation and filling, protection of adjacent structures and utilities, underpinning, slope stability, and dewatering, written primarily for the engineer having responsibility for preparation of contract drawings and specifications.
 - Suitability for on-site soils for use as compacted fill.
 - Treatment of backfill for utility trenches, walls and footings.
 - Recommended cross-sections for pavements and restoration of remedial cap.
 - Recommended cut and fill slopes and measures for slope protection.
 - Environmental soil management analysis.
 - Crack gauge analysis including photo-documentation.
17. Contract with a construction estimator to develop approximate pricing for foundation repairs or new foundations. Our subcontractor will prepare an opinion of probable costs for budgeting based on our draft design.
18. Update spreadsheet to include cost range for foundation repair, new foundations, and approximate value of home (home value to be provided by others).
19. Meet with the Town to discuss our findings. We envision that at this stage of the project the Town will determine which of the properties tested warrant foundation repair and which properties warrant replacement.
20. Respond to questions and requests for additional information and consultation as the design proceeds. Attend meetings with the Town and residents as needed to present and discuss our recommendations. Coordinate our work with others involved in the project. We assume up to 15 meetings.
21. Finalize design engineering reports for distribution to Town and property owners. [assumes 60 reports]
22. Prepare crack gauge reports for distribution to Town and property owners, which will contain the following items: [assumes 40 reports]
 - Location plan of crack gauges
 - Crack gauge analysis including photo-documentation.
23. Schedule and meet with each homeowner to discuss the findings of our reports. [assumes 100 meetings]

DRAFT

Contract Document Phase

24. Prepare preliminary geotechnical engineering construction documents for foundation repair and new foundations including contract drawings and specifications. Unless we will work from CAD topographic survey drawings provided to us by others, design will be based on readily available public records and tape measurements of existing conditions.
25. Revise project cost analysis for each property based on preliminary set of construction documents and revise spreadsheet.
26. Meet with Town and the Hamden Economic Development Corporation (HEDC) HEDC to discuss our findings and confirm which of the properties warrant repair and which warrant replacement.
27. Respond to questions and requests for additional information and consultation as the design proceeds. Attend meeting with the design team, Town and HEDC to present and discuss our recommendations. Coordinate our work with others involved in the project. We assume up to 5 meetings.
28. Finalize geotechnical engineering related contract documents.
29. Assist HEDC with contractor bidding and procurement.

Construction Phase

30. Provide construction administration duties as the design engineer. Review the engineering aspects of bids and requisitions for payment. Attend meetings. Review submittals and contractor requests for information. Perform weekly site visits to observe the progress of construction and report our findings, identify observed deficiencies. In addition, assist contractor and/or owner with preparing off-site disposal facility required documentation.
31. Provide full- and part-time monitoring services, as needed, by a field technician to observe, assess and document contractor earthwork activities for general conformance with the applicable contract documents. We will document and/or perform the following work:
 - Removal of unsuitable material and subgrade preparation for footings and floor slabs.
 - Soil management.
 - Repair of foundations.
 - Installation of new foundations.
 - Placement of compacted fill below footings and floor slabs, including field compaction testing, maintaining records of fill used, compaction equipment percent of maximum density achieved, and other pertinent data.
 - Construction of foundation drainage systems.
 - Perform geotechnical laboratory soil tests on representative samples to determine if proposed fill materials comply with project specifications and to determine soil compactions characteristics.
 - Collect environmental soil samples as needed to classify soil for on-site reuse and off-site reuse/disposal.
 - Prepare and submit weekly field reports documenting construction activities and our observations and test results.

The actual quantity and duration of our construction monitoring and level of technical and engineering support required will vary and is directly related to actual conditions encountered, the suitability of the contractor's activities, and the contractor's progress, schedule, location of work, and sequencing, all of which we have no control over. As such the actual fee for our construction monitoring will vary.

32. Provide engineering and environmental consultation including supervision of our field technician, reviewing data and reports, attending meetings, and providing timely resolution of construction issues should they arise.
33. As needed, prepare revised Remedial Action Reports documenting existing conditions for each property for inclusion in Town property file and CTDEEP files.
34. Assist HEDC with preparing documentation to satisfy funding source requirements.
